Special Occasion Speeches

“Oh, I don’t know what to say” must never be words a Toastmaster member should say when asked to give a speech during a special occasion. Whether you have been asked to prepare a speech in advance or asked “spur-of-the-moment”, Toastmaster members should be up to the challenge. This is what TM is all about - preparing you for that special event when you will, at some point in your life, have to undoubtedly speak in front of colleagues, guests, family or friends. This week we will rehearse a few of these common situations.
